Description

Accidents and injury often lead people to rely on mechanical aids for mobility. Post recuperative surgeries or operations also, patients may need to rely on crutches or walkers for mobility, till they can regain their strength and manage to move around on their own. Elderly/senior citizens are known to use walking sticks for support and balance. The Invalid Forearm / Elbow Crutches / Pair walking stick takes the weight of the user, provides them with a firm support on the floor/ground, and gives them balance. It makes it easier and effortless to walk. A firm step ahead of regular walking sticks is the Vissco Invalid Walker Rollator - PC0924. Designed to let you take a break when you want to, this walking stick is not only smart to look. It is also enabled with a seat-cum-rest that lets you stop and take a break when you wish. Features: Light weight Height adjustable
