

Symposia iR3

SKU: MP41038

Categories: Hospital Furniture

Short Description:

iR3 is the library function of Symposia. It provides central video storage that integrates with all the video signals connected into Symposia. It allows you to easily record your video data, has a simple retrieval system and software to let you review and edit your video files. Users can look at the video files by date/time and can write protect material to be saved.

Description

iR3 is the library function of Symposia. It provides central video storage that integrates with all the video signals connected into Symposia. It allows you to easily record your video data, has a simple retrieval system and software to let you review and edit your video files. Users can look at the video files by date/time and can write protect material to be saved.